

BAI Radio Licensing – Temporary Sound Broadcasting Applications under Consideration

Temporary Radio Licensing

Section 68 (1) of the Broadcasting Act 2009 allows the BAI to enter into a sound broadcasting contract with an applicant for a period of up to 30 days in a 12 month period. Additionally, if the application is for a community sound broadcasting contract, the Authority may enter into a contract for up to 100 days.

This document sets out details of applications under consideration by the Authority and its purpose is to provide information to interested parties – it is not a declaration of the BAI's intent to enter into a contract. This document is a “live document” and will be updated at regular intervals.
