In 2016, the BAI licensed 15 such services for a short period of time.

The BAI also continued to work on the processes for a remaining seven services underway. The BAI received six complaints about temporary radio contracts and current affairs coverage. Other complaints related to standards in advertising/sponsorship.

The vast majority of complaints were resolved by the broadcaster and complainant. In instances where complainants are not satisfied with the response, the BAI generally receives complaints in writing or by telephone. The BAI has not dealt with the complaint, or where the broadcaster has not responded to a complaint.