Higher Executive Officers

Role Description

Vacancies (3)

The Broadcasting Authority of Ireland (BAI) has an immediate vacancy for three (3) Managers at Higher Executive Officer grade on a permanent, full-time basis.

About these Roles

The positions offer an opportunity for ambitious, enthusiastic and committed professionals, who have a strong commitment to serving the public interest to play a key role in managing the implementation of an effective regulatory framework in the BAI, initially and Coimisiún na Meán (to be established) to meet the challenges of a dynamic multimedia and modern society. The successful applicants will help to ensure that there are optimal organisational processes, policies, capabilities and systems in place to enable the regulator to deliver on its ambitious mission, purpose and strategy.

The roles will be hybrid roles combining home and office working, based, initially, at the BAI's offices in Warrington Place, Dublin 2.

The Future of Media Regulation: Broadcasting Authority of Ireland (BAI) and Coimisiún na Meán (CnaM)

The employing organisation is the Broadcasting Authority of Ireland (BAI). The BAI is the Irish regulator for indigenous radio and television services. Following the commencement of the Online Safety and Media Regulation Act, the BAI will be dissolved in early 2023 and its functions and staff will transfer to a newly established media regulator, Coimisiún na Meán (CnaM), which will continue the existing functions of the BAI, as well as developing and implementing new regulatory frameworks for the wider media sector, including online media.

Further important information about the BAI's existing functions and the anticipated functions of CnaM is available at Appendix 1. Candidates are invited to familiarise themselves with the information therein.

Position Profile and Key Responsibilities

The Higher Executive Officer in the BAI is a middle management role with significant managerial responsibilities. Managers are expected to contribute actively to the implementation of the BAI's strategic objectives, to the continuous improvement of the organisation in terms of its effectiveness and efficiency and to demonstrate behaviours consistent with the organisation's culture, values and reputation.

Working within a matrix management structure, Managers are required to demonstrate a willingness to apply resources flexibly across a range of work areas, both in terms of one's own skills and experience as well as those of direct reports. This requires an approach to working that is premised on flexibility, collaborative working but also individual accountability and collective responsibility. It also requires that Managers are proactive in seeking information and generating solutions. Managers should demonstrate the ability to manage multiple and varied tasks and conflicting priorities, using appropriate delegation, prioritisation and resourcefulness. The role also requires active engagement with a range of internal and external stakeholders, and representing the BAI at national and European fora.

A key responsibility of Managers is people management and ensuring consistent implementation of the BAI's policies. They are expected to role model the BAI Performance Management and Development (PMD) brand and to lead by example by actively engaging in the ongoing development of staff as well as actively eliciting feedback that can contribute to an improvement in their own performance. Managers are also required to engage with peers in giving feedback on staff to facilitate the PMD process in a matrix context.

Following the dissolution of the BAI and as the new organisation Coimisiún na Meán continues to expand and evolve, it is likely that flexibility in regard to the allocation of specific duties will be necessary. Accordingly, the list of duties specified below is not intended to be exclusive or restrictive and duties may be added or withdrawn.

Key responsibilities for the role will include, but are not limited to the following:

Appendix One

Information about the Broadcasting Authority of Ireland and Coimisiún na Meán

1. The Broadcasting Authority of Ireland

The BAI was established under the Broadcasting Act 2009 (“the Act”) on 1st October 2009, as the independent regulator for radio and television broadcasting services in Ireland. The Act sets out a range of general and specific objectives for the BAI and specifies that the BAI “shall endeavour to ensure:

- that the number and categories of broadcasting services made available in the State best serve the needs of the people of the island of Ireland, bearing in mind their languages and traditions and their religious, ethical and cultural diversity;
- that the democratic values enshrined in the Constitution, especially those relating to rightful liberty of expression, are upheld; and
- the provision of open and pluralistic broadcasting services.”

The Authority issues a Strategy Statement every three years which sets out the BAI’s vision, mission, values, strategic themes, and related objectives and KPIs. As stated in the current BAI Strategy Statement 2021-2023,¹ the Authority’s vision is to have an Irish media landscape that shapes and reflects who we are.

Under the current Strategy, the BAI’s work is captured under five overarching strategic themes:

- i) Promoting Diversity and Plurality
- ii) Achieving Excellence and Accountability
- iii) Leadership in Change
- iv) Empowering Audiences and
- v) Enhancing Innovation and Sectoral Sustainability

The Strategic Theme entitled ‘Leadership in Change’ encompasses BAI Transition work in preparation for integration into the new Commission. This Theme also acknowledges the BAI’s role in advising and communicating on, and influencing, the development and evolution of the broadcasting and regulatory landscapes. This Theme has the following objectives:

1. Lead debate and influence policy development on the future legislative and regulatory framework for digital and broadcasting media services.

¹ Available online at <https://www.bai.ie/en/news-and-information/publications/>

2. Respond, adapt to, and communicate on, developments in the wider environment, anticipating and assessing organisational, sectoral and audience impacts.
3. Lead staff, review and transform the BAI's policies, practices and processes in preparation for integration into the new Media Commission.

The BAI consists of the Board ("The Authority"), two statutory committees – the Contract Awards Committee and the Compliance Committee – and a sub-committee of the Authority, the Finance Audit and Risk Committee. The BAI Executive supports all aspects of the work of the organisation.

The BAI's work is led by the Office of the Chief Executive (the OCEO), which comprises the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and two Principal Officers (Assistant Chief Executive Officers). The OCEO is supported by a team of senior managers who, in conjunction with the OCEO, will oversee the implementation of the BAI's Strategy and statutory functions, work planning and implementation and management of the organisation's resources. The BAI operates a matrix structure whereby staff work flexibly across all areas of activity according to business needs.

2. Coimisiún na Meán

The Online Safety and Media Regulation Act 2022 will, when commenced, dissolve the Broadcasting Authority of Ireland (BAI), transpose the revised Audiovisual Media Services Directive (AVMSD), provide for an updated regulatory framework for broadcasting services and on-demand audiovisual media services, and establish a new regulatory framework for online safety.

The Act will establish a new independent Regulator, Coimisiún na Meán (CnaM) to oversee and enforce the new and updated regulatory frameworks and to play a key role in the development and funding of the wider media sector. CnaM will devise and implement a Media Fund, in line with the recommendations of the Future of Media Commission, with a range of schemes to support public service content and digitalisation in the sector. It will advise the Minister on the creation of a European Works Levy to fund new audiovisual works in line with the provisions of the Online Safety and Media Regulation Act. CnaM will have a key role in stimulating greater equality, diversity and inclusion in the media and in supporting sustainability through environmental initiatives across the wider media sector. In co-operation with other bodies, CnaM will have strong role in supporting the Irish language in media services and in promoting educational and training initiatives, in particular as regards online safety and media literacy.

Given the significantly expanded regulatory framework for the regulation of media and online services set out in the Act, CnaM will be established as a multi-person commission, led initially by three Commissioners, namely, an Online Safety Commissioner, a Media Development Commissioner and a Broadcasting Commissioner as well as an Executive Chairperson. CnaM may delegate certain of its functions to individual Commissioners, although they will remain accountable to CnaM as a collective body.

CnaM will act as a collective decision-making body in respect of certain key functions, including:

- the determination of the terms and conditions and number of staff, subject to the consent of relevant Ministers and the preparation of the strategy statement, annual report and work programme of CnaM;
- the ultimate consideration of complaints regarding video-on-demand and broadcasting services;
- the powers of CnaM regarding investigations and sanctions;
- matters pertaining to broadcasting contracts; and,
- matters relating to the role of CnaM in carrying out full media merger examinations under Part 3A of the Competition Act, 2002.

The national digital strategy, Harnessing Digital - The Digital Ireland Framework, commits to continue to build a strong well-resourced network of regulators to effectively oversee and enforce digital regulations. In its role as regulator of broadcasting services, on-demand audiovisual media services and designated online services, CnaM will form an important and integral part of this network. In particular, and in line with the revised AVMSD, CnaM will be responsible for the regulation of on-demand audiovisual media services and video sharing platform services established in the State on a European Union (EU)-wide basis and will be appointed as Ireland's Digital Services Coordinator (DSC) under the forthcoming EU Digital Services Act.

As a body with an expansive new remit regarding online safety, media regulation and supporting the development of the media sector, CnaM will play an important role in the implementation of the Report of the Future of Media Commission and in assuming new functions which may be assigned to it under future national and EU legislation.

Competency Framework

What is a Competency Framework?

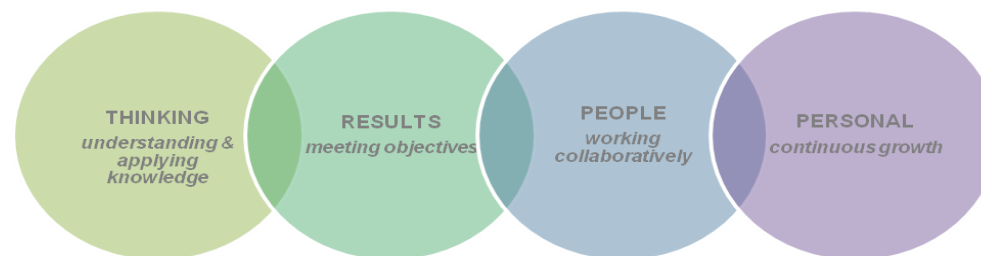

Competencies are a set of behaviours, skills and attitudes that specify an organisation's expectations and standards in relation to performance. A competency framework brings together a number of competencies that have been prioritised by an organisation. It provides each individual with a map or indication of the skills and behaviours that are valued and reviewed as part of the performance management process.

The BAI Competency Framework is designed to improve, inform and integrate a number of key processes in the organisation. It will help the BAI develop its capability, improve its effectiveness and meet the challenges and opportunities that arise from its new remit and revised structure. The processes that will be impacted by the framework are:

- Performance Management – helping to deliver an effective, meaningful and consistent performance management process for all staff;
- Role Profiles - helping to develop comprehensive and clear role profiles for the BAI;
- Recruitment - helping to recruit the right people and undertake targeted recruitment and selection;
- Training and Development – helping to shape individual development plans and identify organisational training needs;
- Management Development – helping to define areas of development for BAI managers.

How will the BAI Competency Framework work?

The BAI Competency Framework comprises 10 competencies which are presented in four clusters which reflect organisational values and link to the organisation culture.

How do I use the BAI Competency Framework?

Each competency is defined in general terms and then drilled down to set out expectations appropriate to each level or grade in the organisation. To get a full understanding of the competency requirements relating to you, it is important that you reference the column that corresponds to your grade and all the columns preceding it e.g. A HEO should look at competency breakdowns in the columns for HEO, EO and CO grades.

As a staff member, you should familiarise yourself with all¹ the competencies listed. Look at how each applies to you, your objectives and your role. Identify any areas where you feel you might need support to meet your objectives. Consider your own career goals and how the competency framework can help you focus your long-term development. Use the competency framework to help you participate in your performance management meetings and make them a more dynamic two-way process.

As a manager, you should look at the competencies in terms of your own performance and development but also in relation to your line reports. The framework provides a useful aid to the performance management process. It will support you in discussing and honing in on aspects of performance and will help you set out and clarify the expectations relating to the objectives and the role. The framework helps you to discuss any performance issues and to give constructive feedback. Finally, the framework gives you a basis for identifying training and development needs for yourself and others.

As a senior manager with responsibility for large teams and/or resources, the framework can inform the work planning and objective setting processes. It helps you take a look at the skills requirements in relation to the objectives and to identify any resourcing, training and development needs for the organisation.

It is important that everyone becomes familiar with the BAI Competency Framework. If further support is required, please contact HR or the Office of CEO.
