

Community Broadcasting Support Scheme 2015.

Award of Funding

Liffey Sound 96.4FM

Liffey Sound 96.4FM will commission a research report to explore and learn from other community stations that have made the transition from being exclusively voluntary organisations to ones with a mix of volunteers and paid staff. The research findings will be used to prepare best practice approaches for such transitions and will be shared with other community stations.

Flirt FM

Flirt FM will undertake an internal review of its organisation to evaluate the operations, structures, and capacity of the service and the community it serves. The outcomes of the review will inform the development of a 3-5 year strategic plan for the station.

Claremorris Community Radio Ltd

Claremorris Community Radio proposes to undertake an external evaluation to inform the development of a 5 year plan for the service. The consultation process will seek to elicit views and feedback from a wide variety of community groups.

Wired FM

Wired FM will commission external research and hold meetings with focus groups to engage with listeners and stakeholders across the three Limerick student campuses that the station serves. The outcomes of the research will be used to inform the programming and operational approaches of the station and assist in the development of the stations next three year plan.

Near FM

Near FM will undertake an evaluation of the stations current affairs programming. The evaluation will involve station personnel and the outcomes will assist in the development of a training plan.

Cork Community Television

Cork Community Television will conduct an external review of its operations with community groups in order to gauge the public perception and awareness of Cork Community TV. The evaluation will also seek to highlight the opportunities for and challenges to community engagement.

Phoenix FM

Phoenix FM will carry out an evaluation of how the station is serving its target audience. The evaluation will comprise of a community survey and consultation meetings. The outcomes of the consultation will inform the stations future programming and operational approaches.
